FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Metropolitan Family Service to Establish After School Programs at Four North Clackamas Elementary Schools

Portland, OR—July 8, 2008— Metropolitan Family Service has received an Oregon Department of Education 21st Century Grant to provide after school programs at Clackamas, Lewelling, Linwood and Oak Grove Elementary Schools in the North Clackamas School District this fall. The programs – Child & Family Enrichment (CAFE) - will be modeled after successful MFS after school programs at Lot Whitcomb Elementary and Rowe Middle School in North Clackamas. Each new CAFE site will serve 100 students per year.

The CAFE program has been particularly successful in assisting students that are performing below benchmarks and face barriers to achievement. To address these needs, CAFE curriculums are designed to enhance school day learning. They include a broad range of engaging enrichment activities and provide older adult mentors and daily homework assistance. For parents, there are family literacy and adult education classes. “The Metropolitan Family Service CAFE program has been a wonderful benefit for our students and families,” said Ron Naso Superintendent North Clackamas School District. “The coordinators work closely with our staff to support and reinforce the curriculum in the after school classes and activities, creating more learning opportunities for students.”

Metropolitan Family Service after school programs have been shown to yield measurable results in academic achievement, increased parental involvement, and development of positive life skills among participating students. According to Superintendent Naso, “The schools are seeing the benefits in improved test scores and classroom participation.” The goal of CAFE is to have 100% of participating students meet standards in reading, writing, and math.
