

Current Encore Consultant Opportunities:

Drive Change

Volunteer Business Developer

Metropolitan Family Service is expanding and promoting Ways to Work, a national car loan program for people who might have difficulty qualifying for conventional loans. We need your business development skills to raise awareness of this program with Metro Portland employers and generate interested prospects for loan applications. Join our dynamic, passionate team, whether you work a flexible schedule from home or in our office.

Skills: lead generation, building relationships, negotiation, project management, preference for working independently where your efforts can build capacity and have a direct impact on employers and employees in the Metro-Portland community.

This volunteer position is a part of our Encore Consultants Program. Contact us for more information: Cheryl Edmonds, Encore Fellow: cheryle@metfamily.org, or 503. 232. 0007, ext. 172 .

Straight Talk

Volunteer Marketing-Brand Manager

Metropolitan Family Service is refining its organizational positioning and key messages to help us talk persuasively about our brand depending on the audience. We need your skills and expertise to help stakeholders articulate the value proposition with energy and passion using effective targeted messaging. Once you've recommended a messaging refresh, you'll facilitate small group training of MFS staff and the board so they can effectively and intentionally activate the various audiences to achieve desired outcomes. Join our dynamic, passionate team, whether you work a flexible schedule from home or in our office.

Skills: prior experience creating a messaging matrix & customer conversation components, branding principles, project management, and a preference for working independently on this high-impact, short-term project.

This volunteer position is a part of our Encore Consultants Program. Contact us for more information: Cheryl Edmonds, Encore Fellow: cheryle@metfamily.org, or 503. 232. 0007, ext. 172 .
